From old glass one form or another has been used in all areas of architecture. Today glass - modern decor, office or house. Glass allows you to see live ever-changing urban and natural picture gives more light , creating a sense of openness. There are several types of glass : Window glass, crystal glass, quartz glass, clear, polished glass, tinted glass mass , heat -proof glass (selective) , Laminated glass (bulletproof) , patterned glass, organic glass, tempered glass.

Tempered glass is 5-6 times more resistant to temperature changes and beats. And shattered , it breaks into many small pieces, which do not have sharp edges and do not cause any danger to others. Until recently, all the glass seemed fragile and delicate , but modern technology allows the design of a variety of shapes and complex glass constructions.
