PRODUCTS OR MACHINERY

There is no substitute for broad, deep, technical experience. Through decades of work with every major glass manufacturer on every aspect of glass plant development, we have amassed a superior level of both technical experience and strategic industry insight. SSOE's team of veterans in the glass industry is equally adept at projects related to facilities, utilities and the manufacturing process.

What distinguishes SSOE is our knowledge of the business side of the glass industry. We understand how implementing new technologies affects your ROI and offer expert analysis of how facilities-related options will support your company's strategic plan.

Our track record of repeat business and client loyalty is the ultimate proof of our performance and our willingness to do whatever it takes to further the success of your business.
