PRODUCTS OR MACHINERY

Aavid Thermalloy, founded in the state of New Hampshire, USA in 1964, has been a premier supplier of thermal solutions and products to the world's leading electronics companies in the USA, Europe and Asia. Our thermal solutions for the solar industry include heat sinks and heat pipe solutions for cooling inverters and concentrator PV cells and modules. In 2008 we formed a solar products group in our Shanghai facility to develop and manufacture PV modules, concentrator PV modules and tracker systems. Our PV modules have TUV and UL certification and come with product warranties for long term performance. Our tracker systems incorporate robust gear drives and sensors to provide smooth and accurate sun tracking suitable for standard as well as high concentration PV modules. All our manufacturing facilities are ROHS compliant. From our solar manufacturing facility in China to our network of sales and support offices in Asia, Europe and USA, we aim to deliver high quality products and services and do our part to create a more sustainable energy future for our planet.
