Sun+ Energy main difference among competitors is our DOUBLE AXIS TRACKER, a technologically-innovative patented mechanical device which allows complete mobility for solar panels when installed. This mobility allows the best orientation in every moment, helps searching for more solar light or preventing sheet from overheating. Other advantages: - Loss on weight, essential for roof installations. - Competitive costs, it requires less raw materials and a shorter installation time. - Small size compared to other trackers, it allows almost twice as many sheets installed in the same amount of space. - Excellent aerodynamics in situations of extremely strong wind (avoid potential breaks)
