PRODUCTS OR MACHINERY

Photovoltaics may be the most reasonable alternative to conventional energy. The energy demand is growing every day. The prices of electricity suppliers to increase also, despite billions of profit. Solar power is not only because of environmental thought a good thing. You can also invest in solar power to obtain its own facility, or to participate in large plants in order to earn money as a result. Photovoltaic is indeed still an expensive investment for the future, but government subsidies and financing models make this interesting technology possible for individuals and businesses.

During assembly, there are different variants:

There is the possibility for roofs of on top of the roof. In top of the roof or the flat roof. Furthermore, facades and open spaces can be used for energy by photovoltaic.

The mounting options:

- On top roof
