PRODUCTS OR MACHINERY

industrial digital printing solutions

We are an advanced materials company offering digital-one-stop-business, including equipment, consumables, software and graphics.

We develop digitally printable inks and functional layers to serve consumer goods, electronics, transportation, healthcare, advertising&media, architectural and other industrial needs.

Our single-pass UV digital printers are based on the successful track-record of KERAjet, (www.kerajet.com) the leading Company in digital printer manufacturing with more than 500 printers working in the ceramic industry worldwide.

Our technology offers broad and disruptive attributes that can improve performance of existing products or enable new products and/or provide significant reduction in manufacturing/operational costs. Each technology segment is embodied by a new material composition or form and an associated low-cost, scalable, and environmentally-friendly process
